It was Danny's birthday and we were gonna paint the town.

He is a hell of a fella so our friends started coming around.

Cheri was so done with bullshit. She wanted someone whose life she could share.

Danny boy was slow on the uptake, bruised by a previous heartbreak.

An invitation hung like her perfume in the air.

It's not out of reach, It's not out of reach

Don't you ever believe that love is out of reach

Somebody's gonna run a stop sign and someone's gotta pay the bills.

Even when you reach the mountain top from there it's all downhill.

Dan and Cheri were quick to get married. But now it's always the same.

It's so hard to remember when those first loving embers burst into such a flame.

It's not out of reach, It's not out of reach

Don't you ever believe that love is out of reach

Let's go to Arizona. Let's breathe the desert air.

Let's float down a river. Let's hold hands and dream.

It's not out of reach, It's not out of reach

Don't you ever believe that love is out of reach
