

I DON'T KNOW WHY I MISS YOU

I don't know why I'm crying
But I know who's to blame
This is what I wanted
Now I'm alone again

I don't know why I'm thinking
About what could've been
We made a good decision
And now it's sinking in

And I don't why I miss you
But I do

You gave me back my sweaters
I gave you back your key
We talked like nothing happened
Like it was all a dream

And I don't know why I miss you
But I do

Isn't it a good thing
That I never thought about us growing old together
In a house with a big backyard?

Isn't it a good thing
That for all the years we spent together
I was hoping that we'd fall apart?

Isn't it a good thing?
Thank God for such a good thing
'Cause that might just break my heart

I don't know why I'm lying
Or who I'm singing to
All I know for certain
It sure as hell ain't you

'Cause I don't know why I miss you
But I do
No, I don't want to say I miss you
But I do
