Roll, roll let it roll, in the meantime
So sold, getting old, on the screentime

Busy, busy, busy is the way we're designed to be Go get another one
Busy, busy, busy is the way we're designed to be Come down and get me some What if all the chilling and the lounging go obsolete?
Well things be getting numb
Busy, busy, busy is the way we're designed to be

So you walk into a job, head down, head down to your hall that's the prob
Baby footsteps fall
The inevitable, predictable, relatable gotta keep moving, not allowed to fall, that's not all Cause all the little fires start and trickle down your plate
Say it ain't great, you just can't wait to follow your heart,
That's the hard part, there's just no time in your life
To really put aside the passion growing on the side, that's right

There's nothing quite good enough

One hamster wheel to the next, better deflect the need to connect Power the machine, only clean energy's gonna keep the city erected,
Inspected by the doc who only piles on the crock pot of the expected vs unexpected
Time to get a pair of clean socks, it shocks the system when you try and list em, tasks mock Take a walk to the park, fresh air, but who cares?
On a mountain of work, an avalanche of rocks

Busy, busy, busy

Cadd9 BbMaj7

There's nothing quite good enough

Cause there's cooking and the cleaning, and checking on the beings
Filing papers for the peons, tanning in the neons, gotta feel my feelings
How about the urge to splurge, support the bad habits
That keep the foam in the mouth, rabid, too much keeping track and now I've had it

Motion sustained and let it roll

Back with a vengeance, serve the sentence
Tip my hat to descendants with the preceding sentence
Work hard in the land of opportunity it sounds alright to me
So put a little faith into the power of self belief
Credos and who knows where this goes, pointy toes, pin a rose Bloody nose from singing too high falsetto busy , busy, busy is the way to be, come down and give me some
